

Planned Litter: (Cali x Cole)

Anticipated Breeding Fall/Winter 2011

Cali vom Rahe

0224/05 (D1, S3, S1), FW: SG1 HD frei (DKV) Schwarz (Black)

We are proud to announce our planned breeding of Cali. We have tested Cali through the German system and are very happy with her. She is a very good hunting dog and family companion. She is an average size female weighing 55 pounds. She is very steady on point, and works heavy cover very well. She is not afraid to work tree rows and does a very good job at this. She is a pleasure to hunt with and backs naturally. Very good hunting dog. When Cali hunts with me hardly a command is given it is all pleasure.

We have decided to breed Cali and Cole. I have had them both since they were pups, trained and hunted them. I feel this is going to be a supper match. They are both very steady; they are correctly balanced with prey drive and pointing to make them a joy to hunt with. Cali has produced great dogs as has Cole, conformation and ability wise. Both of these dogs are hunted regularly and do an excellent job.

The Ahnentafel below is for a similar breeding (Condor x Cali)

Cole vom Gänsehimmel

0084/05 [S1(J), D1,VGP 294/2 310/1, IKP 1/136, VBR
FW: V] (DKV) HDO (B1) Black and white

Cole has a 4H for pointing in the Derby, a 4H for duck search in the Solms, a 4H for nose in the IKP and a 4H for search without a duck in his VGP and at the 2007 IKP he was a Suchen Sieger (Search Champion). There is not much one should have to say. The only area he has not received a 4H in is search...

Cole was rated "V" by Michael Hammerer while in Germany. He usual weighs about 80 pounds is a very stout dog. has a great head carries himself very nicely.

Cole had produced one litter which contained a "V" rated dog. Most dogs were not tested. But all are great family/hunting dogs.

I ran Cole in his Solms when he was 12 months old, he received his first 4h at that time. (1j)

At 2 years of age when most dogs from his breed year were running the solms, he ran the VGP. We got a price 2 due to blood work (handler problems). We also ran our first international test that fall. We failed youngest dog there, not a problem, it had more to do with the handler.

At 3 years of age he ran the VGP again with a better handler (Andreas Schmidt) and got a prize 1, 4h in search without a duck he also ran the IKP that year prefect score 4h in Nose tied for 3rd out of 198 dogs.
